

CROP REPORT SHOWS WHEAT YIELD SMALL

1934 Production Will Not Exceed 500,000 Bushels

Washington, June 7.—(AP)—A government crop report today which forecast the lowest wheat yield this year since 1893 and corresponding reduction in other grains told in figures a significant story of the effect of the drought.

The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture said the nation's wheat crop probably would not exceed 500,000,000 bushels. Winter wheat production was estimated at 400,357,000 bushels, compared with a normal production of 632,600,000 bushels. The spring wheat output was set at 100,000,000 bushels and was regarded as "still very uncertain" due to heavy loss of acreage because of the drought.

Must Use Stocks This will mean that the United States will have to dip into stocks of stored grain, now totalling about 260,000,000 bushels to supply the normal domestic consumption of 625,000,000 bushels.

The June 1 report on crop conditions showed heavy losses of early grains and hay "receded low condition" of pastures and low levels of milk and egg production. Oats, barley and rye showed heavy losses of acreage and "exceptionally low" condition figures for this season of 1934. The oats crop being estimated at less than 700,000,000 bushels, the lowest since 1893.

No comparable June in the nation's history was found by the crop reporting board in preparing this month's analysis. The condition of various crops on June 1 compared with the lowest previous records included: Winter wheat, 55.2 per cent, 62 per cent in 1893; oats, 47.2 per cent, 78.3 per cent in 1928; tame hay 53.9 per cent, 76 in 1926; pastures 83.2 per cent, 75.7 in 1925.

An "acute shortage of hay in many states" was regarded as unavoidable in the drought area. The production of tame and wild hay was estimated at 30,000,000 tons compared with 74,000,000 tons last year and 84,000,000 the five-year average.

President Roosevelt plans to send his request for $325,000,000 for drought relief to congress tomorrow. He made it known that $50,000,000 of this sum would be used for relief of town and city dwellers in the drought area. At the white house also it was said the administration would do all it could for the planting of forage crops for livestock in the affected sections. The prospects for feed crops have been improved by recent scattered rains.

The president also made it plain that the crop adjustment programs instituted by the farm administration could be used also to increase production. He said the plan was to pare excessive surpluses through reduction but that lean years which reduced supplies would be followed by increased plantings.

The farm administration today removed all its restrictions on the planting of forage on farms under government contract except one forbidding growing of corn and grain sorghums on government-rented acres.

Hollywood, June 8.—(AP)—Two Palm Springs airplane pilots crashed to their deaths against a hillside today in the mountains back of here after their plane motor apparently had become disabled. The victims were Virgil Richard Coffman, 21, and Robert P. Riddell, 31.

Tavern Keepers Won't Sell You Too Much Booze

Decatur, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—Twenty five tavern keepers today had pledged themselves not to serve enough liquor to anyone to make him drunk.

Constituting about one third the tavern keepers in the city, they have formed an association and applied for admission to the association of commerce. They have invited other keepers to join and take the pledge.

At the same time, there is an amendment to the city liquor law before a five man commission which would allow part time liquor sales on Sunday. Two of the commissioners have expressed unreserved opposition to the amendment, two are for it, and the fifth has not publicly stated where he stands.

STORM STRIKES SAN SALVADOR; EIGHT KILLED

Five Hundred Homes Destroyed, Loss $2,000,000

San Salvador, Salvador, June 8.—(By Pan-American Airways Wireless)—A hurricane which struck Salvador at 1 p. m. yesterday and continued throughout the night killed at least eight persons, destroyed the homes of five hundred, caused property damage estimated at $2,000,000 and cut off the communications systems of the nation.

Heavy rains continued throughout the day, but was abating tonight as efforts were made to care for the homeless in a city which was without electric light or power.

Soldiers in Charge. Soldiers were in charge in San Salvador under martial law and enforced an early curfew to prevent looting and disorders.

The homeless were being cared for in churches and other public buildings, and workmen were attempting to repair the streets and the utilities.

Relief work was pushed under government supervision.

Authorities said there was no danger of a food shortage. People were instructed to store rain water to avoid possible shortage in the normal supply. The main aqueduct into the city was cut off by the storm. While no estimate of casualties was available from outlying districts, damage to crops was feared to be heavy.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, June 8.—(AP)—Rains and heavy winds continued to sweep Honduras tonight, causing heavy damage, especially to the banana zone on the Atlantic seaboard.

The capital is completely cut off from transportation services. Rain has fallen ceaselessly since Sunday. The River Grande, which passes through Tegucigalpa is rising fast toward flood stage. Lower parts of the city are under water.

Lack of telegraphic communications is delaying reports from northern Honduras. A big landslide on the highway leading out of Tegucigalpa to the north blocked all traffic. The army has been called out to clear the road.

Homes were destroyed and much property damage is feared to have resulted at San Juanito, an important American mining community twenty miles from Tegucigalpa. No casualties were reported.

America, Yucatan, June 8.—(By Pan-American Airways Wireless)—The weather station reported tonight a new storm center has formed in the Gulf of Mexico east of Yucatan Peninsula, moving toward the Central American east coast.

At the present rate of motion it will reach land in about 24 hours.

MUSSOLINI AND HITLER TO MEET

Rome, June 8.—(AP)—While the disarmament conference was discussing a proposal which contemplates the return of Germany to the Geneva council table, semi-official sources today revealed that Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler probably will meet for a personal talk within the next few days.

The revelation came after Mussolini departed for the Adriatic coast on what was described officially as a ten-day vacation.

Before he returns, it was said, he probably will meet Hitler and discuss disarmament with him. It was regarded as likely that if Duce will bend every effort to induce the German chancellor to go back to the disarmament conference and to the League of Nations, as that is one of the basic points in the Italian disarmament policy.

MUST SURRENDER EAGLE

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery Administrator, announced today he had ordered the Milwaukee Electrical Railway and Light company, Milwaukee, Wis., accused of discriminating against union employees to surrender its Blue Eagle and to cease displaying the insignia in its street cars.

Donald Huston of Winchester was a business visitor in the city Friday.

STEEL INDUSTRY OFFERS PLAN ON UNION QUESTION

Neutral Board Would Adjudicate All Complaints

Bulletin Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Battling to prevent a general steel strike, Hugh S. Johnson ran into a bitter denunciation tonight from the insurgent union element soon after he had won from executives of the industry concessions towards a settlement.

"We are done with you and your iron and steel institute board," read an open message addressed to Johnson by members of the "rank and file" group of local officers of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, after they had listened a radio address by the administrator in which he hit back at them for recent personal attacks.

"Tomorrow we go to the president to place before him an honest, straightforward plan for settlement. Having seen the president, who saw the steel magnates earlier this week, we shall go home to our lodges prepared to fight for that 'pure recognition' of the right of collective bargaining that you scorned."

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—The country's steel industry today offered to the government a plan under which all questions of choosing worker representatives and all complaints of anti-union discrimination would be adjudicated by a neutral board of three.

The offer was made in the face of threats of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers to strike, but it was not a proposal put in for agreement by the union.

Leaders of the union assembled here tonight were definitely opposed to the project, but Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, called them to his office for a meeting tomorrow morning at which he hopes to explain it to them.

Plan Submitted The plan was submitted at government urging. It was the result of protracted negotiations and suggestions between Johnson and his aides and the Iron and Steel Institute.

Under it the steel industry agreed that the board of three was to be composed of one representative of the public interest, one of the employer and the other of the employee interest, but none to be "any person presently or formerly having any interest in or partisan relationship towards employees or in or towards employers in the steel industry or any company therein or in or towards any labor organization whether national or local."

The board would have authority to: 1. Hear complaints of interference or coercion in all steel labor elections since January 1 and require new elections if it determined there was unfairness.

2. Authority "to hear and determine" complaints of discrimination against or discharge of employees because of labor affiliation, if it found the existing employee representation plan had not afforded opportunity to fairly determine the question.

3. Right to supervise any election of employee representatives under the existing employee representation plan, or any amended plans "and to supervise any vote to amend such representation plans" at the request of the employer, or the employee committee in charge of elections or "upon written request signed by a substantial percentage of the 'Miss Universe' of 1930 who skyrocketed to celebrity stardom after a varied stage career that grew out of her appearance at a beauty contest in a $2.98 bathing suit.

U. S. Senators Are Shown Real "Rubber Dollar"

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—The senate saw a real rubber dollar today and heard two veteran republicans in a serious but good natured debate as it marked off another day of argument on silver remonetization legislation.

Borah of Idaho, representing the western independent faction of the party, contended monetary reform was the pathway to better times, while Fess of Ohio, of the regular wing, said confidence in the monetary system, not more money, was needed.

Fess argued that "foolish legislation" such as the silver bill was frightened those who had money to invest.

Pulling a rubber likeness of a dollar from his pocket and stretching it for about a foot, he said: "Until you stop this travesty of uncertainty there will be no step taken by any sane man to invest a dollar in anything."

DOROTHY DELL WONDERED WHO WOULD BE NEXT

Actress Is Killed When Automobile Hits Pole

Pasadena, Calif., June 8.—(AP)—Less than a week ago, Dorothy Dell, Hollywood's newest screen luminary, voiced the trouper's superstition there would be another death soon in Hollywood's movie colony, because actors' deaths come in threes.

"They always say that when death comes to one actor it comes to two others before very long," the 19-year-old husky-voiced, blonde actress mused aloud as she was talking with friends on the day of Memorial services for Lew Cody.

There was Lillian Tashman and now Lew Cody—I wonder who'll be next."

Miss Dell was next. She was killed early today when the automobile in which she was riding plunged off the highway near here, mowed down a telephone pole, careened off a palm tree and tumbled into a boulder.

Killed Instantly She was killed almost instantly. Her escort, Dr. Carl Wagner, prominent young physician, received injuries that caused his death a few hours later.

The automobile was crumpled to about half its normal length. There was no one left to tell the details of the death of the "Miss Universe" of 1930 who skyrocketed to celebrity stardom after a varied stage career that grew out of her appearance at a beauty contest in a $2.98 bathing suit.

Miss Dell, whose real name was Dorothy Dell Goff, and Dr. Wagner, who was 28, had just left an inn at Altadena, where they had attended a gay party, and were heading for Pasadena during the early morning hours.

Woman Pal Of Dead Gangsters Must Go To Prison

Waterloo, Ia., June 8.—(AP)—Tourist camp in the vicinity of Waterloo and Cedar Rapids were visited by authorities late today as they continued their search for companions of Tommy Carroll, slain Dillinger gangster.

Accompanying them was Jean Crompton, 21, arrested yesterday when Carroll was shot down as he resisted officers on a downtown street. She told the officers she and Carroll had stayed in tourist camps in the vicinity.

As they endeavored to check her story the federal state and local officers also hoped their visits would reveal clues to the whereabouts of another couple said to have been seen with Carroll and the Crompton girl, or might lead them to a possible hideout of other members of the Dillinger gang.

Couple Sought.

The second couple was the object of an intensive hunt last night when members of a violent organization joined with the authorities in scouring the roads leading from Waterloo. Reports indicated the couple might have caught a ride with a passing motorist.

William McGrath, probation officer, arrived here tonight to return the Crompton girl to the reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., following the revocation of her probation by a federal judge at Chicago.

Meanwhile, officers accompanied by Miss Crompton, returned from the tour of the vicinity of Waterloo and Cedar Rapids, and announced they had established the girl's story that she and Carroll had spent a night at a tourist camp five miles east of Cedar Rapids.

The matron of the camp, according to officers, declared that only Jean and Carroll were in the party stopping there.

Jean had been sentenced to a year and a day imprisonment for harboring Dillinger and members of his gang at a resort near Mercer, Wis., but her sentence had been suspended and she had been admitted to probation to the Chicago district.

At first the girl claimed she was married to Carroll, but later she admitted they were not married, and that she had a husband living in Chicago. Carroll's widow, Mrs. Viola Carroll, lives in St. Paul, where his body will be sent Saturday morning for burial.

The Crompton girl was questioned at length by the officers last night and today and was permitted to visit the morgue to which Carroll's body was removed after his death last night in a local hospital.

USE INGENIOUS APPARATUS ON DIONNE BABIES

Tiny Lungs of Quintuplets are Being Filled With Oxygen, Hydrogen

Corbett, Ont., June 8.—(AP)—An ingenious apparatus which fills the tiny lungs of the Dionne quintuplets with a mixture of oxygen and hydrogen is successfully curing them of the "blues" their physician reported tonight.

Dr. A. R. Dafoe explained the infants, now almost 12 days old, experience at intervals loss of vitality that causes them to turn a bluish color, like most babies born at seven months.

Use of the machine immediately restores normal respiration. It is employed several times daily.

The dark and wrinkled skin of the five little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ovide Dionne is turning lighter, and their nurses expect they soon will be as pink as normal babies. Their increased weight has ironed out some of the wrinkles and they began to look much more like ordinary infants.

Twenty-four-year old Mrs. Dionne was so much improved in condition today she was allowed to leave her bed. She expects to be able to leave her home soon and see her five older children who are being cared for by relatives.

All but one of the quintuplets, Emilie, showed a gain in weight today and their total is now ten pounds, four ounces. Emilie dropped back two and one-half ounces today, but that was not considered alarming because yesterday she gained three and one half.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were instituted in United States district court today against Edward A. Dato, formerly co-partner with Edwin D. Krenn, Swiss architect, in management of real estate properties belonging to the late Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

The petition was filed on behalf of Jacob Abelson with a claim of $27,500; Rose Friedman, $13,750, and Frank Abink, $5,000. The attorney filing the petition asserted liabilities were approximately $700,000. Assets, he said, consisted mainly of claims arising out of the management of McCormick properties and assignments under Mrs. McCormick's will.

Alexander was represented here yesterday by Sebastian Kumi.

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—William J. Miskella, president of the paper foundation, today presented to a group of house and senate members a petition one mile in length and containing the signatures of 119,186 persons, asking for a return of two-cent postage.

Miskella said: "This is the longest petition ever written on one continuous sheet of paper. The paper is of the same width as an ordinary letter head. Every state in the union is represented," he added.

ARMS PARLEY COMPROMISE IS EFFECTED

U. S. Ambassador Is Given Praise By Frenchman

By Joseph E. Sharkey Associated Press Foreign Staff

Geneva, June 8.—(AP)—The disarmament conference came back to life today by adopting a program designed eventually to pledge the major powers, including Germany, to a policy of reduction and limitation of armaments.

Much credit for the banishment of ill-feeling which has been in evidence for a week was given by the delegates to Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador at large, whose "experience, wisdom, authority and love of peace" was praised by Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, in describing Davis' efforts to bring the French and British together.

The program provides for study of means of settling all outstanding problems, specifically mentions negotiations by the governments "to facilitate the attainment of final success by a return of Germany to the conference."

The Italian delegation made it clear that it would not have agreed to any program not mentioning the return of Germany, and Poland agreed with reservations that she cannot agree in advance to be bound by negotiations of the steering committee in which she does not take part.

The conference will meet again on Monday to consider methods of putting into effect the program, involving study of security pacts, arms manufacture and other phases of the disarmament problem.

The conference has extended the hand of friendship to Chancellor Hitler, said one delegate commenting on the spreading of the welcome mat for Germany. "We hope Hitler will grasp that hand."

The Italian delegation confirmed reports that Hitler will confer personally with Premier Mussolini and it was revealed that Barthou had been invited to be present, but had not accepted because of other engagements.

Barthou, who had clashed with Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, and Arthur Henderson, British president of the conference, had only kind words for his neighbors across the channel today.

Maxim Litvinoff, Russian commissar for foreign affairs, promised "Soviet Russia will co-operate with every nation and every people to further the cause of peace."

As each delegate spoke highly of the colleagues present, each also extended to Germany the invitation to return to the conference.

SEVEN PERSONS RESCUED FROM AIRLINE WRECK

Four Were Injured When Big Airplane Pancakes Onto Mountain

Seattle, June 8.—(AP)—Seven persons were rescued today from the wreckage of an air liner that pancaked onto a mountain near Selkirk, Washington, accounting for all nine men and women who figured in the crash. Four of them were injured.

The story of the rescue of the seven persons remaining at the scene—two others having left in search of help—was told over a telephone.

Miss Daisy A. Mooney, Winthrop, Wash., school teacher, who had been reported lost in the forest following the crash was found with the others, the telephone advice said.

The others were pilot Ben Redfield, Spokane, with an arm seriously injured; stewardess Marian Bennett, Salt Lake City; Miss Helen Curran, Seattle, whose leg was hurt; Robert Clark, Wenatchee, Wash., who was injured; Miss Mercedes Boyd, Winthrop, school teacher traveling with Miss Mooney, and Mrs. G. Johannessen.

The United Air lines planes crashed while battling a fog last night.

Co-pilot Dwight Hansen, Spokane, fought his way through the timber to bring help, though he also was hurt. P. E. Beeley, Seattle, businessman, came out early today in the belief Hansen had been unable to reach Selkirk.

Speaking For Souls

Dr. Everett Dean Martin who delivered the address Thursday night at the Phi Beta Kappa open meeting at Illinois college spoke a word for the human soul. He contended that the soul is that part of man which lifts him above mere economic and utilitarian existence. The soul, he said, creates excellences and values.
It distinguishes the individual from the mass.

Dr. Martin proved himself to be an individualist, and after his address, he remarked to friends that in New York, where he directs the People's Institute, such views are not criticized. He said, however, that criticism of him. But Dr. Martin has the courage to plead for the rights of the individual soul, which is a rather novel position in these days.

In fact we don't hear much any more about the soul. Its submergence is due to our continued preaching of mass psychology and our attempts to regiment and standardize everybody.
There is no place where a man can lose his soul more quickly than in a modern socialization experiment.

Dr. Martin deplored the attempt to budget a man's leisure time, contending for the right of an individual to use his time, rather than to kill it. He deplored the tendency toward mechanized education and declared that the dream of educators of fifty years ago that "all the children of all the people" could be imbued with a love for the classics had failed.

"These men thought," said Dr.
Martin, "that the laborer would go to his work with a copy of Homer in his pocket and that he would peruse Virgil and Cicero but now the people can read, and what do they read?
The Sunday supplements and the comic strip, the baseball scores and crime stories. History shows that the decline of classical education has always marked the twilight of a civilization."

Dr. Martin was of the opinion that classical education develops the soul.
If it can help to lift the American people back onto the plane of sturdy individual independence, let's have some of it. If it will get us away from so much tabular government of our affairs and leave us a few chances to make a decision, then we're for classical education. We are for anything that will restore the human soul to the respect and sacredness it formerly possessed.

A Common Sense Order

The drought in Morgan county and other sections of Illinois has caused the government to relent its strict regulations over land retired from wheat acreage. Under a new ruling just made public, this land can now be turned to production of hay, forage and pasture crops to off-set the inevitable feed shortage.

Modification of the wheat contracts was expected in view of conditions. It was just plain common sense. Under the original plan the retired wheat acreage was taken out of cultivation altogether so far as production was concerned. The land could be planted in legumes or other crops to fertilize the soil, but the crops could not be used for feed. Had it not been for the dry season they would have been plowed under.

The lowering of the bars in this respect is welcome to the farmers who retired certain fields under the government plan. Faced by acute conditions in many localities, the average farmer needs about everything he can scrape up in the way of feed. The opening up of these closed fields will help.

A Trip to Hawaii

President Roosevelt will go to Hawaii this summer. He will travel on the 9,000-ton cruiser Houston, which is already ready for occupancy as the floating White House. The President will occupy the Admiral's quarters. The Houston was designed as a flagship and led the Asiatic Squadron for two years.

The President's trip to Hawaii is not a departure from precedent or tradition. The belief that the Chief Executive should not leave the country during his term of office will not be transgressed. The President will never be out of the United States, which may interest Mr. Ripley.

Note that he is traveling on a United States man-of-war, which is always American territory wherever it goes. Uncle Sam owns Hawaii, or he did own it at last report. Hawaii is therefore, American territory. The islands have not been granted independence or ceded to Japan. If the President wants to buy a Hawaiian souvenir he won't have to pay duty on it at the port of New York.

At Last The Death Ray

For years men have been talking of the death ray and a machine which would project it on its path of destruction. With the study of rays little more than in its infancy, the thing has at last been perfected by a Cleveland physician and scientist, Dr. Arthur Longoria. The United States government has stepped in and forbidden demonstrations of the weapon, and the inventor has agreed to the edict.

But it has been demonstrated and witnesses can testify to its terrible power. It looks like a motion picture projector. When Dr. Longoria turned the ray on dogs and cats, they died instantly, their blood turned to water.
Pigeons were released and allowed to fly some distance before the ray brought them down. The pigeons were killed at once at a range of two city blocks.

What such a machine could do in war is too horrible to imagine. Operated from a soaring plane over defenseless cities or even military works, it could take immeasurable toll. Turned on regiments of advancing infantry, it would lengthen the casualty lists by leaps and bounds.
It is hoped Dr. Longoria has the conscience that the government will keep the thing suppressed.

But that hope is rather weak. Other nations would not be so scrupulous about such a weapon; neither would they tell of its existence. The greatest surprise of the world war was poison gas. Who knows but that the death ray may be the most deadly surprise of the next war?

In view of the invention of this thing and other weapons of destruction, there should not be any next war. Men should know better than to risk destruction of the race and its civilization by losing such powers in another war. Humanity can't stand it, and if it occurs the clock of progress will be turned back thirty centuries.

The Bloomer as a Symbol

From the Minneapolis Journal.
Casting about for something to celbrate, somebody gave the feminists Amelia Bloomer's 116th birthday anniversary. She it was who eighty-three years ago, boldly and almost brazenly as it seemed then, disclosed to the modest world that woman was a biped.

To be sure, Amelia was also a liberal as to material. The garment that took her name did little more than to demonstrate her sister's bifurcation than to identify one ankle from the other by the gathering of the goods thereat. The rest of the way north, the bloomers were almost as much of a denial as skirts. But the principle was established, and the rest was up to the Bloomerites. And how they have finally acted on that principle!

For here again the value of fundamentals may be discerned.
Perhaps, if it had not been for Amelia, the voluminous skirting of womankind never would have been revised. Perhaps it is to Amelia that we owe ultimate acknowledgement of the feminine knee, though that item is now partially in formal retreat.
Perhaps, indeed, freedom would never have come to the daughters of Eve if Amelia had not tried to bloomerize them.

It was a symbol, the bloomer was.
More, it became a step in evolution to the stepin and the scanties and the shorts. Amelia Bloomer and her feminine plus fours, or sixes, or even eights, are antiquarian items now, but make no mistake about their place in history. At the rate things are going into the open now, beside the birthday of Amelia Bloomer will be observed, some day, the natal days of other brave pioneers who took a one from Amelia and substituted the minus sign for the plus mark in woman's clothing.

One Can Spoil It

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
Disarmament is like turning the other cheek. Nice people can't do it so long as one hard guy refuses to play that way.

SO THEY SAY!

Sometimes I wish I were somebody nobody had ever heard about.
—John Jacob Astor V.

Quantity, not sex, is what matters in drinking.
—Amelia Earhart Putnam.

It is no exaggeration to say that in the last few years there has been no other medium or agency that has exercised so debasing an effect on public morals as the pictures and the publicity that have come forth from Hollywood, center of the motion picture industry.
—George Cardinal Mundelein.

Women love a cause.
—Mary Roberts Rinehart.

An additional 1,000 planes are needed. They are to be used just as you would use a slingshot. They are to be thrown at the point where they will be the most damaging.
—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

I'm the kind of fellow they should out in jail.
—Farmer Dionne of Corbett, Ont., father of new-born quintuplets.

It was strange not to see a cordon of soldiers around the White House, as in Berlin and Paris. Just a fine, quiet, impressive mansion. And they let you take photographs.

nberg, visiting the United States.

WILL ROGERS
says:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:
Hollywood, Calif., June 2.—Both sides in the steel seem anxious to strike.
Well if they would only strike just each other it wouldn't be so bad. Don't it look like there ought to be some civilized way of finding out what the employee, and employer owed to each other. The latest papers say that "its up to the president now." Is there anything difficult under the sun that's not put up to that man? He will eventually be asked to decide if the five little babies born in Canada, must go to the World's Fair in Chicago, or not.
Yours truly,
Will Rogers.

The New Deal
in Washington

Bright Ideas Will Bloom in Drouth Relief . . . Reserves of Wheat Big Hunch . . .
Mr. Truax of Ohio Yields to
No One as Martyr and Hero.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent.

Washington, June 2.—A lot of bright ideas pent up in the minds of the AAA agents of the brain trust —which is headed by Tugwell and Wallace themselves—will come busting out as a result of the great drouth.

Don't laugh at them. Silly as they may seem, their ideas are the best ones in anybody's show window to date. Most of the alternatives are frenzied brainstormers from political hicks who have no way of knowing whether their measures will blow the recovery program sky-high—and apparently don't much care.

Faced with the possibility—but not yet the likelihood—of a food shortage, the AAA squirrel cage really began to whir. Withering wheat crops suggested actual achievement of the crop reduction goal of a pre-war parity price and a very likely return to the normal carryover of 120,000,000 bushels.

The question what to do next calls for heavy thinking, because everyone knows that as soon as the wheat harvest gets a nice price again he will be planting all the seed he can cram into his soil.

Of course the scheme of buying up and retreating wheat acreage now that many farmers are deserting scorched land arises at once and you'll be hearing more about it soon.

But the big idea to be pushed at once is that of "wheat reserves." That means wheat stored and sealed and kept under AAA control, on the theory that by controlling such reserves you can control the whole wheat situation.

Under a planned agriculture and with expert markets lacking, it's wise to have a lot more wheat around than the normal carryover for commercial purposes so that we'll have food, feed and seed in case of a shortage.

Obviously this must be tied up with a readily available crop reduction program, to be yanked in again whenever wheat begins to pile too high.

One idea is to store the reserves in big federal warehouses, but Wallace and Tugwell will be too afraid of being called socialists to suggest that.
Farmers will be asked to store wheat on their farms under seal as in the corn loan program, money being advanced at an attractive figure, on condition that they don't sell until AAA says the word, and with the promise that they will incur no loss.

Martyr, Hero, Benefactor
Congressman-at-Large Charles V.
Truax of Bucyrus, O., is a hog specialist who made 26 public sales between 1913 and 1923, boasts that he has sold hogs to every state in the Union and in Canada, South America, Japan, and Australia, edited the Swine World five years, organized the first National Swine Show, and has been very prominent in national agriculture and Ohio Democratic politics.

He is campaigning for the Senate now and is extremely vocal in the House. An excerpt from a recent Truax speech on NRA gives you an idea of what Ohio voters will be showered with by Truax—and voters in other states by other Truaxes.

"When it comes to answering roll calls, I yield to no member of this House," he vociferated. "When it comes to a proposition of sitting on this floor day after day, taking part in debate and fighting for the oppressed and distressed common people, I yield to no member of this House."

"When it comes to putting forth heroic efforts and giving the best there is in me for the rights of the common people, I yield to no member in a free-for-all arena such as was witnessed here yesterday."

"No, I did not go back for political reasons. I returned for the sole purpose of participating in an event that comes but once in the life of every member of this Congress—the graduation from high school of my eldest son."

"Had I been blessed with the income and wealth of some, I might have made this round trip to Ohio upon palatial, expensive, air-conditioned trains and Pullmans. But not having been anointed with the wealth and income of the silkstockinged aristocracy, I made the trip in my faithful Ford, using one day, Thursday, to go to Ohio, the commencement exercises being held Thursday night, and using the next day, Friday, to drive back through a sun-baked and dust-clouded Commonwealth with prevailing temperatures of 103 degrees."

"I am here today, back in the harness for the farmers, the unemployed, the war veterans, and small business men and producers. Upon arrival, I was glad to learn that the roll calls I missed were practically of unim-portance, since . . ."

best vote-getters in Ohio.)

man, who was drowned in the Sang-city immediately, and was taken to the residence late Thursday after-

Sindlar, Marion Way, Frank Collins

dict of "accidental death by drowning while swimming."

carefree manner gained him many friends not only in this city, but all over Cass county, where he was well and popularly known. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P.
Newell of this city, one brother,
Ralph Newell of Ashland, and a sister,

SUMMER SERVICES IN COUNTRY ANNOUNCED

Because of the splendid success of the summer meetings held by the members of Northminster Presbyterian church last summer, it has been decided to carry on similar services this season. The first of these meetings will be held at the home of Roy Souza, northeast of the city Sunday evening beginning at 7:30.

The C.E. members will conduct their service at the same place beginning at 6:30. The large number of young people at these services last year was most gratifying. All young people are most cordially invited to enjoy the fellowship of these services.

Special programs are arranged for the services.
Miss Arenia Mallory's group of girls from her school in Mississippi will provide several numbers. The pastor will preach. Subject, "Limping Between Two Sides."

Come and enjoy the chorus singing in the great out-of-doors.

Contests were won by Mrs. Lee Reiley and Loreita Lonergan. This

Mrs. James Lonergan.

At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

MAKERS OF WINE
IN 1933 MAY NOW
MARKET PRODUCT

The commissioner of internal revenue has informed V. V. Dalmann, collector at Springfield, that those persons who, in order to save their grape crop during the year 1933, manufactured a wine without fortification, may now taxpay this product and dispose of same without qualifying as retail or wholesale liquor dealers.

Any manufacturer who desires to so taxpay and withdraw the wine should forward a statement, under oath, within sixty days from May 28, 1934, the date of the approval of this regulation, issued by the commissioner to the collector mentioned above, informing him where the wine was produced, that such wine is still owned by him, and is in his possession on the premises where the grapes were grown.
Such affidavit by the manufacturer will permit the collector to make the necessary investigation towards approval of taxpayment of the product.

Vivian Ruyle and Elgin Man to Wed

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Vivian Ruyle, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Ruyle of Roodhouse, and Attorney W. B. Moran of Elkin, was made Tuesday evening of this week in Elgin. Miss Ruyle is a graduate of Our Saviour's hospital training school, and has many friends here. She is now engaged as surgical supervisor at Sherman hospital.

She was honored at a party given in Elgin by Mrs. Myron Yenker at her home, 1136 E. 24th avenue.

An Elgin newspaper said:
"Twenty-six guests enjoyed an evening of bride, Miss Agnes Tor-blaa and Miss Eva Whiting meriting favors for high honors. The announcement was made in a clever and unique way. Mrs. Clayton Stow-

Burial Ground Lot
Owners Will Vote
on Sale of Strip

While the paving crew works toward Jacksonville from Pisgah on Route 104, and grading continues between Franklin and Waverly, some extra legal steps are necessary before work can start on the "middle section" of the new highway. The delay centers about a fifty-foot strip of land in the edge of Franklin owned by the Cemetery Association.

The attorney general has ruled that the permission of a majority of the lot owners must be obtained before the land can be dedicated for hard road purposes. The cemetery board has called an election for Saturday afternoon, June 23, in the old movie theater at Franklin, when the lot owners will ballot. The hours of the election are from 2 to 4 p.m.

The county commissioners this week entered into an agreement with the trustees of the Cemetery Association, signed by all three members, under which it is agreed that the county will submit a minimum bid of $1,500 for the strip of land fifty wide required for the hard road, in the event that the sale is authorized by the lot owners at the forthcoming election.

The legal procedure requires that the sale must be advertised for three weeks before it can be consummated so that in any event it will be

The Athletics won a decisive victory today as they opened a long home stand against the Athletics but lost, for a while at least, Babe Ruth. The score was 11 to 4.

Ruth was put out of action in the sixth when Mort Fiorer, the A's rookie southpaw from Duke University, took the hill in an effort to halt the Yankees' attack.

all inside struck the Babe's wrist, knocked him down and forced him to leave the game with an injury that was painful if not serious. An examination in the clubhouse indicated that no bones were broken but an X-ray examination was ordered and the bruise appeared painful enough

PRESSCHICAGO SWINE
MARKET STEADY

Chicago, June 8.—(P)—Fully steady prices were paid for hogs today as receipts slipped below average. The day's offerings totaled 20,000, of which 10,000 came direct. Light weight swine improved in quality and price and the supply was pretty well exhausted although the government took only 2,000 instead of the usual 3,200. Receipts a week ago were 23,900. The top today was $3.85.

Government contracts for hog slaughtered for relief have been extended for a shorter period, but the number of head included is not as large as usual.

The cattle market was deadlocked. While prices in eastern meat-handling centers have not yet materially affected eastern demand top heaviness in prices for better grades of beef slowed down buying. There was no outlet for these classes and many were unsold. Best steer prices today were $6.50. Only 2,000 were received, but many were held over, having been locked up by disgusted sellers.

Prices were generally steady on fat lambs and yearlings, the close showing strength. Receipts totaled 5,000, which was lighter than average for the day.

STOCK MARKET
ADVANCE WILD

By Frederick Gardner.

Associated Press Financial Writer.

New York, June 8.—(P)—Stocks emerged from the doldrums today and stepped out into one of the widest advances the market has staged this year.

The buying movement converged upon old-line market leaders like American Can, American Telephone, Santa Fe, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont, New York Central and U. S. Steel Common, lifting them for net gains of 1 to 5 points.

The market assumed a buoyant tone as it moved out of the narrow range it has occupied for more than three weeks, following culmination of the spring decline in mid-May.

No clear-cut explanation of the rise was discernible in the day's news, although trade reports, the new federal bankruptcy measure, ending of price-fixing by the NRA and hopes that a steel strike would be averted, all contributed to improvement in underlying sentiment.

The Standard Statistics Co. average price of 90 stocks closed 3.7 points higher at 80.8, the largest gain in one session since January 15. Sales on the stock exchange expanded to 1,607,420 shares from 487,150 in the preceding session. It was the busiest day on the exchange since May 14.

Standard investment stocks were taken in sizeable blocks and prices advanced easily. Du Pont jumped 5 points to 90. Allied Chemical was 54 points higher at the close and gains of 3 to 4 points were recorded in Corn Products, J. I. Case, Spiegel-Mayer, J. C. Penney, R. H. Macy, Bethlehem Steel Preferred, Chrysler, Hercules Powder, Underwood-Elliott-Fisher and Louisville & Nashville.

Merchandise, motors, steels and other industrial groups led the advance, but the buying was general throughout the list.

Rails followed the industrials. The Dun & Bradstreet weekly trade review was reassuring, pointing to further retail trade gains.

WHO TO CALL

PLUMBER and Steam Fitter for dependable plumbing and heating service. Satisfaction guaranteed. Contract work a specialty. 301 East College avenue. Phone 118. Jos. E. Doyle. 6-21-1t

FRANK GRIDER, who works on the Norfleet farm, testified that he was working about a hundred yards from the tree in which Mr. Norfleet was picking cherries. He heard the man groan and ran toward the tree. Norfleet was on the ground, lying on his side. The ladder had fallen and a large limb was broken from the tree.

The injured man was crumpled, and Grider tried to straighten out his legs. He then went to the house and summoned assistance. He returned and bathed Norfleet's head and tried to make him as comfortable as possible.

E. B. Kinnett and Mr. Morris responded to the call.

Mr. Kinnett testified that the bucket of cherries was still hooked to the broken limb. He and the others carried Norfleet to the house on a window shutter padded with quilts.

Wesley Norfleet, a brother, testified that the limb broken from the tree was rotten. He said he thought the ladder was leaning against the limb and that his brother was on the ladder. The combined weight of ladder and man caused the limb to break.

Henry Norfleet was born near Monticello, Ky., Aug. 2, 1876. He had resided as a farmer in this county about thirty-five years. He is survived by his wife, Minerva Beckman Norfleet; two daughters, Mrs. Leva Mason and Mrs. Mildred Reid, both of this city; and one son, Hubert Norfleet of the Orleans community. He leaves also one brother, Wesley, who made his home with him.

Members of the coroner's jury were Edgar Mills, D. K. Duke, H. L. Jackson, R. S. Hamilton, Charles Jackson, and Albert Conner, with Miss Helen Ward as stenographer.

Mr. Norfleet was married to Minnie Stacey April 24, 1901. To this union five children were born, two of whom preceded their father in death. Deceased was a member of the Mount Pleasant M. E. church of Monticello, Kentucky.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Williamson funeral home, in charge of R. M. Mount, with interment in Hebron cemetery.

Farmer Dies From Injuries Received by Fall from Tree

Henry Norfleet, who died at 7:17 o'clock Friday night at Our Saviour's hospital, came to his death from internal hemorrhage and shock caused by injuries received Wednesday when he fell from a cherry tree at his home southeast of Arnold. This was the decision of a jury following an inquest held by Coroner E. O. Sample at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the Williamson Funeral Home.

Dr. W. P. Duncan, who was summoned to the home to see Norfleet, said that he saw that the man was seriously injured, and that he had broken bones. He was removed to the hospital, where x-ray pictures were taken. He was unconscious or in a semi-conscious condition from the time of the accident until his death.

The x-ray revealed a skull fracture on the left side of the head, and the condition of the left eye showed a hemorrhage of the brain from this source. Six ribs were broken, two of them in two places each. The left collar bone was shattered into four fragments. The broken ribs must have pierced the chest organs as there was also hemorrhage from that quarter.

Frank Grider, who works on the Norfleet farm, testified that he was working about a hundred yards from the tree in which Mr. Norfleet was picking cherries. He heard the man groan and ran toward the tree. Norfleet was on the ground, lying on his side. The ladder had fallen and a large limb was broken from the tree.

The injured man was crumpled, and Grider tried to straighten out his legs. He then went to the house and summoned assistance. He returned and bathed Norfleet's head and tried to make him as comfortable as possible.

Bank Receiverships Explained to Club

Edgar E. Crabtree, receiver, for three Morgan county banks, gave an address on "Receiverships" at the regular weekly meeting of the Jacksonville Rotary Club Friday.

The club members adopted a resolution on the death of John J. Reeve, which was offered by Albert Metcalf.

J. L. Parsh, announced that the club will meet next Tuesday noon at 11:30 o'clock to join in a nation-wide broadcast by Rotary International.

Bill Clark, Eagle Scout, told the club members something about scouting in Muscogah Area, and calling attention to the Scout drive for funds which will open next Wednesday.

In opening his address Mr. Crabtree said that to most persons, receiverships are mysterious. He said that a receiver's job is to help people arrange their affairs so that they can pay what they owe closed banks. By doing this the receiver also helps the depositors to realize the most cash.

Banks can only be closed by the action of its directors, Mr. Crabtree said. After a bank has been closed, the state banking department and the auditor's office immediately takes an inventory of everything in the bank, cash, furniture and fixtures and everything belonging to the bank. The closed bank division is in direct charge of all closed state banks.

The receiver of the bank is under the orders of both the banking department and the great court. No bills can be paid unless approved by the receiver.

Mr. Crabtree said that a receiver really is a collector working under orders from the banking department and the great court.

Adopt Resolution

The resolution on the death of Roderick Reeve follows:

"In the sudden removal of Roderick John J. Reeve from our midst, we all feel the loss of a dear friend, a wise counselor, a Christian gentleman, a constructive citizen.

"The citizens of Jacksonville have contributed more to the community than he. As a leader among men he followed the ideals of Rotary. Service above self. John Reeve did not have to be a Rotarian to learn its principles, as these were the foundation on which he built his own life and by which he lived.

"The Rotary club of Jacksonville mourns for his missing member, yet realizes how much more he will be missed by his family, therefore, we send our love and sympathy to Mrs. Reeve and other members of his family and assure them that our hearts beat with love and sympathy for them in their great loss."

Officers of the club Friday were: Dr. Howard Poor, secretary of the York P. B. Rotary Club, and Leander H. Poor of Wilmington, Del.

Bank Receiverships Explained to Club

Edgar E. Crabtree, receiver, for three Morgan county banks, gave an address on "Receiverships" at the regular weekly meeting of the Jacksonville Rotary Club Friday.

The club members adopted a resolution on the death of John J. Reeve, which was offered by Albert Metcalf.

J. L. Parsh, announced that the club will meet next Tuesday noon at 11:30 o'clock to join in a nation-wide broadcast by Rotary International.

Bill Clark, Eagle Scout, told the club members something about scouting in Muscogah Area, and calling attention to the Scout drive for funds which will open next Wednesday.

In opening his address Mr. Crabtree said that to most persons, receiverships are mysterious. He said that a receiver's job is to help people arrange their affairs so that they can pay what they owe closed banks. By doing this the receiver also helps the depositors to realize the most cash.

Banks can only be closed by the action of its directors, Mr. Crabtree said. After a bank has been closed, the state banking department and the auditor's office immediately takes an inventory of everything in the bank, cash, furniture and fixtures and everything belonging to the bank. The closed bank division is in direct charge of all closed state banks.

The receiver of the bank is under the orders of both the banking department and the great court. No bills can be paid unless approved by the receiver.

Mr. Crabtree said that a receiver really is a collector working under orders from the banking department and the great court.

Adopt Resolution

The resolution on the death of Roderick Reeve follows:

"In the sudden removal of Roderick John J. Reeve from our midst, we all feel the loss of a dear friend, a wise counselor, a Christian gentleman, a constructive citizen.

"The citizens of Jacksonville have contributed more to the community than he. As a leader among men he followed the ideals of Rotary. Service above self. John Reeve did not have to be a Rotarian to learn its principles, as these were the foundation on which he built his own life and by which he lived.

"The Rotary club of Jacksonville mourns for his missing member, yet realizes how much more he will be missed by his family, therefore, we send our love and sympathy to Mrs. Reeve and other members of his family and assure them that our hearts beat with love and sympathy for them in their great loss."

MORGAN COUNTY FEDERATED CLUBS IN ANNUAL MEET

Dr. Paul Anderson is Speaker; Officers for New Year Elected

Dr. Paul Anderson of the faculty of MacMurray college was the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Morgan County Federated clubs, held Friday afternoon at MacMurray college.

At this meeting the clubs endorsed a resolution presented by Mrs. O. N. Olsen, recommending a complete rehabilitation program for the buildings of the State School for the Deaf. Mrs. Olsen in a clear and earnest plea also placed before the Federation the need of a four year high school course. The resolution as presented was as follows:

"We the Morgan County Federation of Women's clubs, consisting of 25 clubs in Jacksonville, Illinois and Morgan county, in annual meeting held at MacMurray college on June 8, 1934.

"Declare the physical condition of the State School for the Deaf located in Jacksonville, Illinois. The newest dormitory was built about 40 years ago.

"Thousands of dollars have been spent in repairing the old obsolete buildings to no material advantage. They are still the same unsanitary firetraps and do not meet the needs of the student enrollment of today.

"We feel that the deaf children of Illinois deserve the same good treatment as the other wards of the State.

"We recommend that the State Architect be instructed to plan a complete rehabilitation program of modern fire proof buildings, which will be a credit to the State of Illinois.

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his Excellency, Governor Henry Horner, and we earnestly pray that he will give this matter his personal attention."

Preceding this important business session a basket luncheon was served in the dining hall of the college. In opening the meeting the president of the Federation, Mrs. B. A. Anderson, presented Dr. Garm Norbury, who expressed the appreciation of the Board of Trustees of Morgan County Tuberculosis Sanatorium for the splendid aid given toward procuring the X-ray equipment. Dr. Norbury said that through their generous support, this project would become a reality and soon the machine, modern in every way would be purchased.

Club Work.
Mrs. Clarence Skel of Kampville, District president of the Federation, was introduced and in a comprehensive manner spoke of her interest in the Morgan county clubs and the work that she had planned for the year. She emphasized four departments for special attention. These were: American citizenship, club institute work, scholarship fund, and state federation work.

The district secretary, Mrs. Stone of Kampville, also presented, as a new officer for the coming year.

The program for the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. G. B. Anderson and preceding the address several musical numbers were beautifully given. This included a group of selections sung by Lowell Henry, which were: "Ah So Pure" by Flotow; Vale, Russell and Serenade from Pagliacci, Lucca; A duet number by Miss Lorine Dewese and Lowell Henry was charmingly given. This was "L'Angelus Chaminade." Miss Alice Mathis accompanied these numbers with fine interpretation on the piano.

As a surprise number, Miss Arenia C. Mallory, director of the Industrial and Literary school of Lexington, Mississippi and a former resident of Jacksonville presented her group of colored singers, who delighted the audience with several "Spirituals." In these the pathos and beauty of the theme was skillfully and effectively given. They graciously responded to an encore: an imaginative spiritual—"I Can't Sit Down, Although Life's Battles Are Over."

The address of the afternoon was made by Dr. Paul Anderson and in the costume of an Arab he spoke upon the subject: "The Desert Arab at Home." In his opening remarks he described the costume as worn by all Arabs of the Desert. The Abba or cloak of camel's hair and the head dress was displayed and the audience was told that the excessive heat was ward off by the head covering.

Dr. Anderson told of the modern city of Beirut, where the American University is situated. This wonderful institution, the speaker said, was governed by a Board of Regents in New York City and was truly American with an American trained faculty.

Visits Sheik.
Dr. Anderson had the unusual experience of visiting the son of the Sheik, the greatest ruler of the Northern Arabian Desert. This young man was one of the first 50,000 people to have an education. The speaker told of his visit in the desert home and of the many customs. He told them in a graphic manner, stressing the desert hospitality and giving many instances of tribal unity which showed the manners and customs of the Arab in a most interesting way.

In closing his remarks Dr. Anderson spoke of the mighty ruler as one who had a vision for his race and was thinking of the future when he declared that his son would have not only a college education but that he must equip himself to help his people to become an agricultural race, giving up their lawless pursuits.

Interesting reports were made during the meeting by delegates from the county clubs, showing that work had been splendidly done in all departments.

Wayne Kinnett, reporting a fund of about 200 dollars had been donated for the X-ray equipment.

Mrs. Abram Wehl, in her presidential report, which ended a three year term, thanked the clubs for their splendid co-operation and loyal support. She mentioned the garments which had been made and stated that the number was 2,426.

3 LOCAL STREET PROJECTS HAVE BEEN APPROVED

Portion of Public Square And Two Other Highways Will Be Resurfaced

Three street projects were definitely decided upon yesterday afternoon at a conference between Mayor W. A. Wainwright, Thomas Warwick, chairman of the highway committee, and a Mr. Slaymaker of the state highway department, one of them bringing about a radical change in the present system of automobile traffic on the public square. The projects are to be paid for out of this city's share of the state gasoline taxes.

The first project will be the resurfacing of a 40 foot strip around the public square, and includes the possible abandonment of the present island lights and the creation of a one way traffic around the square. The second project will be the repaving of North Main street from Walnut to the city limits and the third project will be the repaving of the first blocks east and west of South Main street on College avenue.

Mr. Slaymaker, in laying out the projects for this city, stated that the most important project was to resurface the public square, adding that the state was paying maintenance costs on 40 feet of the 72 foot wide square, and that in view of the present conditions of traffic, it would be advisable to dispense with the present stop and go lights on the square.

The suggested change, he said, was made as the result of considerable study of similar conditions. In most instances it has been found much easier to speed up traffic through the business district by adopting a similar plan. The state, Mr. Slaymaker said, will demand one way traffic around the square, and that in view of the present conditions of traffic, it would be advisable to dispense with the present stop and go lights on the square.
